

PRESS RELEASE

Ausländerbeirat – Foreign Council – Election on March 14, 2021

Bad Soden am Taunus, February 10, 2021. Of the roughly 23,000 people in Bad Soden, around 21 percent have foreign passports from more than 100 different countries. The Ausländerbeirat is the democratically elected representation of these citizens and hence the political advocate of all foreign residents.

On Sunday, March 14, 2021 the Ausländerbeirat election will take place together with the town's municipal elections. All registered residents that do not hold German passports, age 18 and above that have lived in Bad Soden at least six weeks are eligible to vote.

The Ausländerbeirat of Bad Soden am Taunus is made up of seven women and men of various ages, nationalities, beliefs and professional backgrounds. There are twelve persons candidating for this council.

The Ausländerbeirat works within the framework of the state's municipal codes and gives them the right to weigh in and advise the city council on all motions, proposed legislation and ordinances.

All who are eligible to vote will receive a Wahlberechtigungsschein – eligibility certificate – in the mail and may vote in person on March 14, 2021. They may also vote by mail.

A mail-in ballot can be requested online at www.bad-soden.de or by filling out the form on the back of the eligibility certificate and sending it to the town.

Another option is to pick up the mail-in ballot personally at the voting office (with the possibility of voting right away). The office is located at Königsteinerstrasse 77. They are open Monday to Friday from 8 am until 4 pm. Voters are asked to wear masks.
